I. Brief Introduction

ChinaNANO 2023 acts as the platform of academic exchanges on frontier progress of international nanotechnology and also is a competing platform for nano-enterprises to view globally, show their competitive strength and develop emerging markets. The Conference Organizing Committee has set up a "Nanotechnology Exhibition" to create an opportunity for high-tech enterprises in the field of nanotechnologies to communicate face-to-face with internationally renowned experts, researchers and hospital directors, and to jointly create a "Politics-Industry-Learning-Research-Use" nano-innovation chain and supply chain. Exhibition areas such as new energy and materials, nanopharmaceuticals and in vitro diagnostics, nano-devices and nano-manufacturing, nano-measurement and instrumentation, academic publishing will be set up in the Conference Division to facilitate exhibitors to promote and display all-round materials, products, equipment and services related to nanotechnology.

ChinaNANO 2023 will be held in Beijing International Convention Center on August 26-28, 2023. We sincerely invite enterprises to participate in the exhibition and make joint efforts to build a platform for the exchange of nanotechnology to promote the innovation and development of nanotechnology.
