2026 Conference on China Dermatology（CD 2026）
Conference Notice and Call for Papers Announcement

Distinguished Experts and Colleagues:

To strengthen academic exchanges in dermatology in the global field and to promote the in-depth development of dermatology in basic research, translational medicine and clinical research, we are delighted to announce that the 2026 Conference on China Dermatology will be held in XI'AN, Shaanxi, China from Sep. 18th to 19th, 2026.

This conference is jointly organized by the Chinese Medical Association Publishing House，Chinese Medical Journal and Rheumatology & Autoimmunity. The event will focus on the cutting-edge issues in the dermatology specialty, gathering renowned experts from both domestic and international hematology research circles to share their latest research breakthroughs and translational achievements.

Boasting a century-long history, Chinese Medical Journal (CMJ) is consistently rated as a leading English journal in the second phase of the China Excellence Initiative for Science and Technology Journals. Its 2024 impact factor is 7.3, securing a Q1 ranking and placing it among the top 6.93% globally.

This conference now extends an open call for submissions from dermatology medical professionals (first authors) under 45 years old. Outstanding papers will have the opportunity to be preferentially published in CMJ. Detailed call-for-papers information is provided below.

We sincerely invite you to join us in this significant event, jointly promoting the development of dermatology diagnosis and treatment. Let's converge in Xi'an, to partake in this academic gala and work hand in hand towards a brighter future for dermatology.
